(Not So) Elementary, My Dear Watson: The Popularity of Sherlock Holmes Thursday, January 27th at 6:30pm

The recent spate of Sherlock Holmes movies, television shows, and literary adaptations indicate the Great Detective is alive and well in the 21st century. Holmes is the most portrayed literary character of all time, with over 230 film versions alone in several different languages. Over the past century, Sherlockians created societies like the Baker Street Irregulars, wrote articles sussing out the "sources" of Doyle's works, and, most recently, developed an entire online world of Holmesian fan fiction. Sherlock Holmes is now a multi-million dollar industry. Why is Sherlock Holmes so popular? Ann McClellan's presentation explores the origins of Arthur Conan Doyle's famous detective and tracks his incarnations in literature, film, advertising, and modern media in order to crack the case of the most popular detective.

We hope to see everyone in person for this program, but please keep an eye out for changes in the case that we need to move virtual.

This event is sponsored by the NH Humanities Council and the Weeks Public Library.

MASKS REQUIRED

Masks are required for anyone over the age of 2 at all times while in the library building.

Thank you for helping to keep everyone safe, especially our youngest visitors.

Disposable masks are available at the glass entrance.

NH Humanities to Go—New England Quilts Saturday, February 5 from 1pm-2pm

Join presenter Pam Weeks and the Greenland Historical society at the library for a program about New England quilts and the stories they tell. Pam Weeks weaves world history, women's history, industrial history and just plain wonderful stories into her presentation. Participants are invited to bring one quilt for identification and/or story sharing.
