10.01.2025 - Staff are in the middle of training on our new system! Training should be complete by October 3, after which staff will be "playing in the sandbox" - in other words, using our test data from 4 months ago to work within the new system and re-learn how to do everything with all the new tools we've gained in the migration.

If you have questions, please ask! It's a great way for us to learn before we "go-live" with the new system.

For those patrons so inclined, we are planning to have educational sessions on how to use and navigate our new catalog. The simplicity of the new catalog is one of strongest features, but the ability to refine your searches with lots of new tools is also super valuable to some of our patrons! Come and learn with us - the learning sessions will be posted to our calendar soon!
